Excerpt: . admiration, it being, they declare, irresistibly piquant and vivacious. Marmontel says of it, Un petit nez retrouse renvers les lois d un empire ; while an anonymous author to whom we have been repeatedly indebted, praises it in the following terms. We confess a lurking penchant, a sort of sneaking affection which we cannot resist, for the celestial nose in a woman. It does not command our admiration and respect like the Greek, to which we could bow down as to a goddess, but it makes sad work with our affections. The former too, is not so unbearable as in a man. It is a great marrer of beauty, undoubtedly; but merely regarded as an index of weakness, it claims our kindly consideration. Weakness in a woman, which is gentleness, feminancy, is excusable and rather lovable; while in a man it is detestable....
