It woke Mike, and the last I heard of him that night he was laughing as though he would split his sides, and all he could shout was, Pigs, pigs! as I went flying toward home. I got there as soon as my feet would carry me. I found the house up and mother and sister crying, while father was trying to make them stop. When I shook the door it opened and I was home again, and I was mighty glad. The reason for the crying was that when it got late and the folks began to look for me, one of the boys said that the last time he saw me I was swimming with Mike --. When I did not come home they thought surely I was drowned, but I was born for a different fate. Sometimes in my years of roaming afterwards I wished I[.].

Reviews

This book is great. It is written in simple words and not difficult to understand. I discovered this pdf from my dad and I suggested this ebook to find out.
